This is a physical piece. Some roles require more physicality than others. Please let us know on your audition form and at time of audition if you are working with any specific injuries or other physical, or other, limitations or accessibility needs.

Some of the content depicted in this play may be triggering for some individuals. If you know of any psycho-emotional or other reason why you as a performer might not be able to safely engage with this content or fulfill the role as it was intended please consider not auditioning. This is not punitive, nor is it intended to coerce consent and is for your safety. We are legally not able to change the script for casting and all intimate and violent content outlined is deemed necessary for storytelling purposes. If you feel it is appropriate, you may wish to have a conversation with the director prior to casting. You will never be required to share anything you do not wish to share and we trust that you know your limits. Sometimes things change. If you attend auditions and later change your mind, please let us know as soon as possible. If you would like to audition but do not wish to be cast or are unsure, please indicate that on your audition form.

Please do not consent to this content if it is beyond your boundaries simply for the sake of being cast in a role.
