Voice Workshop for Actors

BRAD GIBSON

There are still a few spaces in our voice workshop. This two day event will take place on Saturday and Sunday, January 23 and 24 from 9:30 to 4:00 each day. It will be led by accomplished voice, speech and movement teacher, Brad Gibson, who was an active Shuswap Theatre member as a young man. The workshop is co-sponsored by the Okanagan Zone of Theatre BC and is open to all members, with a maximum of 20. Read more about Brad and the workshop on our website. The cost is only $50 and you can register online. For more information contact James Bowlby by email or at 250-833-5134.

WELFAREWELL

Our first production of 2016 is Welfarewell, a dramatic comedy, which will run from February 19 to March 5 and is directed by Evelyn Birch. Click here to read more about the play.

The play is cast and rehearsals have begun. Producer, Kathy Moore is looking for a few more crew people:

- Set Decor
- Lighting Operators (for during the run)
- Hair
- Makeup

If you can help in any of these areas, please contact Kathy by email or at 250-804-5503.

Plans have already begun for Theatre on the Edge 2016, and applications to perform are now being accepted for this 'Fringe-like' festival. The expanded festival is scheduled for July 21-24. This will allow for more performances and artists and will include the popular Edge Club, with food, drink and live music. The application form (deadline February 12) and all details can be found on our website.

Last year's festival was a huge success with over 800 tickets sold. This year we'll be building on what we learned to give artists and audience an even better experience. Mark the dates on your calendar now.
